

FEBRUARY 8-9, 2019 | THE REV. TRAVIS ENRIGHT

SHARING TOGETHER! HEALING TOGETHER! WALKING TOGETHER!

The true journey to Reconciliation and Restoration is not traveled by "others," of whom we are merely observers. We must all travel that journey together.

The Wisdom Centre is pleased to welcome The Rev. Travis Enright

Travis Enright is a member of the James Smith Cree Nation in Saskatchewan. He is of Cree and Irish background. Travis works out of St. Faith Anglican Church, located in a poor inner city neighbourhood in Edmonton. It is a parish with a diverse community of people, with varying degrees of Christian upbringing. He has had extensive educational experience, both in the western academic tradition, and in the tradition of Cree spirituality.

SHARING TOGETHER! HEALING TOGETHER! WALKING TOGETHER!

An invitation to common ground

Travis will offer perspectives on two World Views, the Western Christian world view, and the Cree (Indigenous) world view. He will explore these world views in the contexts of space, time, family, and life. He will also outline a convergence of the two world views that will help the church and society journey together.

Saturday, February 9 | 9:30 am-3:30 pm

Christ Church 3602 8 St. SW

SOCIAL COHESION WORKSHOP

The workshop is a lesson in this converged social cohesion. We are creatures in search of a "thou." We struggle with questions of identity, and with the very modern challenges to that identity. Travis believes we have three basic challenges in the ongoing struggle with what he calls Freedom and Grace:

- 1) The struggle with oneself;
- 2) The struggle with the other;
- 3) The struggle with the land.

The solution lies in finding symmetry with the Language, Lodge and Land which were given to us as gift by the Creator.

Early-bird registration until February 1 - $50 for both days
$20 for Friday only and $40 for Saturday only.
